Have you ever had the feeling that people older than you are hard to understand? Or, have you felt like people from younger generations just don't get it? Maybe you find it easier to _____ (1) with people who are closer to your age than those who are older or younger than you. You can probably thank the generation gap for these feelings.

There are currently six generations living in the United States: the Greatest Generation, Silent Generation, Baby Boomers, Generation X, Millennials, and Generation Z. Each generation has its own unique set of characteristics and _____ (2). For example, the Greatest Generation (born 1901-1924) is known for its patriotism, hard workers, and loyalty to institutions. The Millennials (born 1980-2000) are characterized by their dependence on technology, detachment from traditional institutions, optimism, and _____ (3). It is no wonder that many people from different generations have a hard time understanding each other.

Generation gap _____ (4) to differences in actions, beliefs, interests, and opinions that exist between individuals from different generations. So, what causes these differences?

One factor that has heavily influenced generation gaps is the ____ (5) rate of change in society. In the 1800s, developments in society were slow. As a result, two or three generations lived lifestyles that were very ____ (6) to each other.

There weren't many differences across generations. However, given technological and social advances that have taken place in the 20th and 21st centuries, the lifestyles of individuals even one generation apart are drastically different from each other.

Just think about all of the changes in technology that ____ (7) in the past 20 years. Many individuals from older generations are having trouble keeping up ____ (8) the modern technologies that Millennials have become accustomed to. Due to generation gaps, a child may explain to an adult how to use technology, or a young adult will choose to spend his time on public transportation texting, while an older man passes the time reading.

Another factor that has influenced the generation gap is the increased mobility of society. In earlier generations, society was not very mobile. Most people stayed in the same area or country. There was ____ (9) contact with people outside of one's general area. Access to information from other cultures was limited. However, with the increasing advances of technology, people began ____ (10) to new things.
