Many organizations are trying to find a solution to the problem of world hunger. Two of them are CARE and OXFARM. They both provide food to hungry people. However, they both believe that it is more important to help people produce their own food. Because of this belief, both organizations have programmes to help people improve their lives.

CARE: It was organized in 1945. Today it has development programs in 37 countries. CARE gives equipment and teaches people how to build water systems, roads, schools, houses and health centers. It also teaches people how to increase productivity on their farms, and how to start small village industries. Besides, it provides health care for the people. It teaches people how to improve their health. It trains people and provides simple medical care.

CARE also provides food for about 30 million people each year, most of them are children. It gives special help when there is a flood, an earthquake, a drought or a war.

OXFARM: In the 1960s, it started working on long-term development in many countries. It wanted to attack the causes of hunger, poverty and diseases. It wanted to prevent the problems instead of trying to solve them. However, it continues to provide food to the hungry, the sick and the homeless.

Both organizations are international. They help people of any race, colour or religion. They meet with the people to decide on program together. OXFARM and CARE help to provide the necessities of life to less developed countries.
